DESCRIPTION

Atlanta-based photographer Matt Haffner re-engages with his street practice for Atlanta Celebrates Photography's 2006 Public Art Program. Haffner's installation weaves a fabric of setting and aesthetic, through temporarily installed images, in the midst of Atlanta's urban landscape. Using a cinematic format, these images on building exteriors throughout the city, reference the film noir and comic books that inspire them. The installation sites will be spread throughout Downtown and Midtown during October 2006. The project will be accompanied by a DVD, which is being created by Chris Downs of TUBE. October events related to this project include a tour of the project, screening of the video, and a curator and artist discussion. For additional images, information, and a map, visit www.matthaffner.com, and click on the ACP Project.
